Two moments in time, twenty years apart, one last chance at redemption. What would you do with a second chance? 1981. Argentina is in the grip of a brutal military dictatorship. Inspector Joaquín Alzada's work in the Buenos Aires police force exposes him to the many realities of life under a repressive regime: desperate people, terrified people and –worst of all–missing people. Personally, he prefers to stay out of politics, enjoying a simple life with his wife Paula. But when his revolutionary brother Jorge is disappeared, Alzada will stop at nothing to rescue him. 2001. The country is in the midst of yet another devastating economic crisis and riots are building in the streets of Buenos Aires. This time Alzada is determined to keep his head down and wait patiently for his retirement. But when a dead body is found behind the morgue and a woman from one of the city's wealthiest families goes missing, Alzada is forced to confront his own involvement in one of the darkest periods in

People are using the future to search for better ways to achieve sustainability, inclusiveness, prosperity, well-being and peace. In addition, the way the future is understood and used is changing in almost all domains, from social science to daily life. This book presents the results of significant research undertaken by UNESCO with a number of partners to detect and define the theory and practice of anticipation around the world today. It uses the concept of 'Futures

Literacy' as a tool to define the understanding of anticipatory systems and processes - also known as the Discipline of Anticipation. This innovative title explores:

- new topics such as Futures Literacy and the Discipline of Anticipation;
- the evidence collected from over 30 Futures Literacy Laboratories and presented in 14 full case studies;
- the need and opportunity for significant innovation in human decision-making systems.

This book will be of great interest to scholars, researchers, policy-makers and students, as well as activists working on sustainability issues and

Say Goodbye to Muscle Dysfunction once and for all with Muscle Activation Techniques. This revolutionary approach will give your body the tools to recover, run faster, perform harder, and crush the competition. Greg Roskopf coupled stellar observation skills with his knowledge and expertise in exercise science to develop a paradigm shift. Suffering chronic pain for years from a falling accident when he was nineteen, Greg fervently sought solutions not only for himself but also for his clients. Greg's research led to an epiphany: Muscle tightness wasn't the only cause of limited range of motion, Muscle weakness also played a role ? and a BIG ONE. The muscle tightness was merely a symptom of the root problem; muscle weakness. Using Muscle Activation Techniques to "activate" and strengthen muscles can result in reduced pain, few injuries, and better overall performance levels. This is the shift Greg hopes to inspire: techniques focused on treating the weak muscles over the tight ones. This Jumpstart into MAT program will teach you: 1) The correlation between muscle weakness and muscle tightness. 2) Basic principles and introductory-level skills for understanding the MAT process.3) How to implement the MAT process into daily work with clients.4) Tools to identify and correct muscular imbalances. In Jumpstart into MAT, Greg Roskopf hopes practitioners will adopt the paradigm shift and learn new skills to allow them to better serve their athletes and clients. He lays the foundational tools to help Physical and Rehabilitative Health professionals treat the problem rather than the symptom. By doing so, they have a better chance of minimizing repeated muscle tightening, recurring pain, and further injury.

Global Business: Positioning Ventures Ahead alerts every business to the new windows of opportunity open to those willing to explore global markets. Authors Czinkota and Ronkainen bring readers quickly up to speed on the essentials of international marketing, explaining all the strategic alternatives for going global—from exporting and licensing to distributorships and joint ventures. They illustrate how to present, promote, and price products and services to appeal to multiple world markets and how to strike back when
